After Death of Reynolds His Wife Learns of His Expulsion.

DUES PAID AND ACCEPTED

John Clark Brings Suit For Divorce Alleging He Has Been Deserted By His Wife, Anna.

COUPLE LIVED IN WARRENSBURG

In the circuit court Monday Attorney Reimold & Hogan began a suit in behalf of Anna T. Reynolds and against the Modern Woodmen of America. The bill of particulars has not been filed but it is known that the lodge of which the plaintiff's husband, Joe Reynolds, has been a member, refused to pay the money she says is due on his policy. Reynolds was a member of a Woodmen lodge in a little town in Missouri. Last winter he died in this city. His wife made proof of his death in regular form and asked for the money due. She was refused to learn from the officers of the Missouri lodge that her husband had been expelled. Just how that state of affairs could exist she did not understand for he had regularly paid his dues and had received no notice that he was not in good standing. The suit is begun in Decatur because the wife lives here. The officers of the local lodge have been notified to defend the suit. The policy is for $1000.

REV. LEMAN WITHDRAWS

Condition of His Wife's Health Makes It Impossible for Him to Remain Here.

Rev. C. L. Leman who recently came to Decatur from Florida and accepted the position of pastor of St. John's church, has withdrawn that acceptance with the consent of the vestry. He has consented, however, to remain in charge of the church until after Easter. His retirement is a matter of regret to the members of the church and of the vestry. The following correspondence fully explains the reason of this step being taken.

Decatur, Ill., March 11, 1901.
To the Vestry, St. John's Parish, Decatur, Ill.:
Brethren—I am pleased to inform you that I have recently received the opinion of physicians, competent from intimate knowledge of my wife's constitution and the condition of her health, to give advice upon the subject to the effect that by making her home in this climate her health would be seriously endangered. If not permanently destroyed, it becomes, therefore, my duty to notify you of this fact and to respectfully request your permission to retract and withdraw my recent acceptance of the pastorate of St. John's parish.

In view of the fact that I have not yet qualified as a canonical member of diocese Springfield, my position so far is that of rector-elect or priest in charge. Therefore a resignation would be improper.

Allow me to say to the vestry that in taking this course I am impelled by a sense of duty which is exceedingly painful and disappointing to me.

Wishing you and the parish every success and with fervent prayers for its spiritual and temporal prosperity, I am very faithfully, C. L. Leman.

To Mr. E. L. Bishop, rector's warden.

Action upon the same was postponed for one week.

And at a regular meeting of the vestry held on the 18th day of March A. D., 1901, the following was presented and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Rev. C. L. Leman has advised the vestry of St. John's church that, owing to the fact that the condition of his wife's health will not permit of her residence in this climate without great danger, he finds it necessary to request their permission to withdraw his acceptance of their call to the pastorate of St. John's church.

Resolved: That while we sincerely regret the severance of the relations so recently formed, we cannot in justice to Mr. Leman and his family do otherwise than accede to his request, and we hereby reluctantly grant him permission to withdraw his acceptance.

Resolved: That we hereby express our appreciation of the manner in which he has conducted the affairs of the parish during the short time he has been with us and his zeal in the work of the church.

We feel that the parish sustains a severe loss and commend him to any parish in which he may take up his work.

Resolved: That Mr. Leman be requested to remain with us as priest in charge until April 15, and continue the Lenten services as announced, and prepare a class for confirmation by the bishop on April 8, as already arranged.

E. P. Bishop, Rector's Warden.

Terre Haute Excursion.

The members of Goodman's band went to Terre Haute on Sunday and gave a concert for the benefit of a band being organized among the employees of the Vandalia shop. The concert was given in a local theater during the afternoon and was well attended. About eighty persons accompanied the excursion from this city. The party returned to the city at 9:20 p. m.

Old Friends.

During the stay of Francis Wilson in Decatur over Sunday, he was the personal guest of Manager V. B. Stearns at the Decatur. The gentlemen were friends many years ago in New York.

MESSAGE FROM C. P. CHURCH

Sermon by Rev. MacDonald at Edward Street Church—Religious Notes.

At the Edward Street Christian church on Sunday evening, Rev. J. W. MacDonald, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, spoke on the distinctive message of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. The sermon was listened to by a large congregation. Rev. MacDonald stated that he was somewhat limited by reason of the fact that the message of the Presbyterian church has already been delivered. The Cumberland Presbyterian is a Presbyterian church and is governed by the same doctrine as the Presbyterian church with one exception. The separation took place ninety years ago when a difference of opinion arose in Kentucky and a few ministers withdrew from the old church and organized the Cumberland Presbyterian church. From those few members has grown the present independent religious denomination. Attempts at reunion failed, the committee agreeing on everything but the doctrine relating to elections.

The Cumberland church had revised the Westminster creed, dropping out those clauses which say God has selected a certain number of people to be saved, and a certain number to be lost, that this number is so definitely fixed that it cannot be changed. They also dropped out the clause which says some children dying in infancy are damned. I am not here to say harsh things about those statements in the creed of another church. In fact I could not say harsher things than have been recently said by Dr. Parkhurst and other prominent ministers of that church. But when you ask for the distinctive message of our denomination I answer: We are a Presbyterian church with exactly the same form of government as other Presbyterian churches. We are proud of the fact that we belong to such a noble family. We are a Presbyterian church with a revised creed, a written creed as well as a preached gospel which says whoever will may be saved. I think we are the only Presbyterian church on American soil with a written creed placing emphasis on this thought. Hence, we have been called the "who-so-ever will church."

CHURCH NOTES.

Westminster prayer meeting at the home of P. B. Laughlin tonight.

At the Baptist church Sunday night Rev. S. H. Boyer began a series of sermons his subject being "What Man Owe to Himself." He said that men were overburdened today which Jesus had offered to carry and that it was their duty to accept his offer. There are financial burdens, social ostracism and common work of life which we may be helped in if not entirely relieved if we will but take our burden to Jesus.

Three persons united with Grace Methodist church at the service on Sunday morning.

Rev. Wohlfarth leaves this morning for Raymond to assist in revival work.

RODENBERG NAMED.

Gets a Position on U. S. Civil Service Commission.

Rev. Charles Rodenberg, pastor of the German Methodist church of this city received a telegram last night from his son, Dr. Conrad Rodenberg, of East St. Louis, informing him of his son's appointment to the position of United States civil service commissioner to fill the place made vacant by the death of Mr. Brown.

Congressman Rodenberg had been a candidate for the position of world's fair commissioner but the position to which he was appointed is more lucrative as well as responsible one and speaks well for the high standing of Mr. Rodenberg at Washington as information comes that he will be chairman of the commission, there being three members of the board. The appointee is a brother of Harry Rodenberg of this city.

Personal Insult.

To have a dealer palm off something you know nothing about to be as good as Dr. Price's Kola and Tar, you should take it as a personal insult on your intelligence. You have heard and probably know of cases that Kola and Tar has cured, your mind is made up to get what you know to cure, you call for it, and it's a dealer's case, if he is honest, to give you just what you ask for.

FOSTER'S IDEAS

Tells Some of the Things He Would Do If Elected Mayor.

HE HAS NO PERSONAL POLICY

That Would Conflict With the Ordinances.—The Mayor Should Give All His Time to the Office.

EVERYTHING FOR DECATUR'S GOOD

In announcing his candidacy for the republican nomination for mayor W. W. Foster submits the following:

In announcing myself as a candidate for the office of mayor at the coming city republican convention, I wish to say if nominated and elected, I shall have no personal policy of my own in conflict with the reinforcement of the laws and ordinances of the city of Decatur.

The city council in its wisdom having seen fit to make the salary of the mayor $1200 per annum, a reasonable and generous compensation for any man who desires to be mayor and in consideration of which the city should have his undivided time and attention.

No man should seek to make the salary of mayor an auxiliary to his other business interests or to enable him to draw two salaries.

It is fair to say that in the past the men who have been mayors desired to have the vested interests of the city fully protected. But while this is true the duties have been in the main delegated to others and the result has been the city has suffered. Aside from giving direction the mayor should know that the duties so delegated were not actually performed.

In the matter of public improvements, which is of the greatest importance, the practice has been to appoint some person an inspector for the work. With a few exceptions these inspectors were worse than none, to say nothing of the loss of money paid them.

My judgment is therefore that the mayor and city engineer should be on the work all the time, one or both of them. No better example is afforded us for this remark than the condition of our present sewerage system at this time. In many localities of the city such sewers have been built for which the people living in the sewerage district have been assessed, their money collected and used in the construction of the sewer and now confront a condition of things that renders such sewer to them as worthless.

It is unfair to the people that have been thus treated and some relief should at once be afforded them. I deem it proper to say here that one of the greatest needs of this city in that regard is a first-class civil engineer, in order that the same mistake may not occur again. One of the first things, in my judgment, we should have is an underground map of our main sewers and the laterals and the figures showing their capacity, their depth, and all other necessary information, in order that our people may avail themselves of all the information concerning their usefulness.

In the matter of paved streets and alleys I am heartily in favor of seeing that go on, as fast as our people are ready for it so as not to entail too much of a loss or hardship upon the smaller property owners. If I shall be nominated and elected mayor it is my intention to give my entire time and my best efforts to the city and to her industries and all of her diversified interests. I will not attempt to build up a little political party of my own, but will treat every man who is a candidate for office with the same courtesy, to which he is entitled and that I enjoy myself.

In the matter of appointments I will say that if elected, I will enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office, without a single pledge or promise to any one. Appointments will be made with a view to the peculiar fitness for the services required to be performed by the appointees.

On the labor question the city work will be equitably distributed among bona fide residents of the city, heads of families always preferred and no interlopers or stragglers will be employed.

I declare positively in favor of clean streets and alleys.

Being aware that the salary paid our aldermen at present is insufficient for their to give their entire time to the city's interest, if I shall be mayor I would ask that a conference or advisory committee of fifteen members be selected from our largest taxpayers, from every department of business without regard to politics to whom all matters involving upon the city an outlay of a great amount of money should be referred. The committee to serve without compensation.

I would be against the voting away of any more valuable franchises to any corporation unless the city shall receive for such franchise what would seem a just compensation.

Our water works, the most important branch of our city government, should be kept always intact.

Our manufacturing and water works for steam purposes should be given the lowest possible rate. Every protection possible in the way of water mains, hydrants of the proper size or the use of our large steamers and our firemen and other apparatus should at once be located, especially in the manufacturing districts, so that no more disastrous conflagrations may occur unless our fire department is fully equipped to successfully combat the fury of the flames.

Our public parks should be improved and beautified as fast as the money collected for that purpose will allow, economically spent, doing the things most needed first.

To organized and unorganized labor I will say that they shall have a representative on the library board, they shall have a representative on the board of park commissioners and in such other places that may become necessary in order to protect their interests.

We are to have a public library building and I deem it proper to say to our contrapers, mechanics, and common laborers that no efforts upon my part will be spared to see to it that they shall all have a fair chance when the plans and specifications shall have been adopted, to fully examine the same and make their figures before the contract shall be let in order that no interloper shall come into our city with a plan and specifications and a bidder at the same time and thus deprive our home people of an opportunity of fair play.

To the end that every dollar expended for labor, material, and mechanics that our people can furnish, may be utilized by our home people and I further believe, that it is to the best interests of our city that the cost used for city uses should be purchased at home, even at an advanced price thereby giving our resident miners employment and keep our money in circulation at home as every dollar paid to our coal dealers and every time it is paid to their employees will be spent at home among our merchants, our mechanics, our lumber men and manufacturers and for such commodities as our miners use.

This briefly expresses my views on some of the important things in connection with our city government. There are many other subjects in which our people are deeply interested but it would be presuming too much on my part to further tax your patience with long drawn out articles. It is sufficient to say that if we all work together as best we can for the city of Decatur and all her interests it will redound to our credit and we will become to Illinois, and to the greatest cities in the world. This can only be accomplished by throwing aside all our bickering and differences and each one putting his shoulder to the wheel.

If the sentiments herein expressed meet your views I shall be glad to receive your hearty support at the primaries to be held on Friday, March 20, 1901.

Permit me to subscribe myself
As ever at your service,
W. W. Foster.

No joke.

When the Piper brothers of Warrensburg were announced to have the small pox, the people of Pekin laughed at the idea. It was in that town that the men contracted the disease. Several other cases in that city were announced as chicken pox and the outside world generally regarded as a humph for thinking differently. Now there are over fifty cases of small pox in Pekin and the public schools are closed.

Herz Richter's Criticism of the Emperor's Speech

Berlin, March 23.—In the of the Diet today President von Kropf commented the result of with Emperor William yesterday afternoon the Kaiser's speech. He pressed the indignation of members of their respective recent outrage at Bremen, said to President von Kropf sorely pained by the outrage convinced him that since the Emperor William I. respect authority has decreased since the emperor's speech, particularly among the people. The emperor thought the out distinction, should have been present conditions. He pressed should be a potent factor holding the authorities and the deputies of all parties were their power to see that necessary for the authorities. A lively lawed President von Kropf then in the Diet, Herz Richter that each admittedly one of the emperor's ministers was unconstitutionally never happened before during years. When Herz Richter sharply criticizing the Emperor's speech, President von Kropf said the truth of his contention. To are full of references to the emperor's remarks.

PRESS CENSURES

For His Remarks in Reply to the Emperor's Speech.

Berlin, March 23.—The press William to the President's speech yesterday, majority, ignoring officially facts that William, the emperor, the place of iron at the Bremen, striking him of life-long epilepsy, and for a mate of an asylum, and attempt was under medical resorting fits, threw hatred the entire nation for reading such attempts, is the second day. Everybody is discussing the President's speech.

The President's speech of the Diet for drawing a deprecating remark about the emperor, but and Spedel's mardewone Emperor William I, and undoubted lunatic, points enormous differences between the press and the emperor.

The Lokal Anzeiger points unreasonably character political difference and or in Germany today has much bitter fanatic personalities shown.

DISPUTES EMP

The Tagblatt takes the opportunity to ask for the deprecatory remarks about the emperor and disputes his majesty's speech. The paper asks how the emperor's remarks, which are not warranted, if the fact is systematically formed by those erroneous add: "Assuming that criticism is true, is it not most and the emperor's authority of the crown has since his grandfather's time."

The Vorwaerts puts a question for the emperor to them today: Why has the emperor his reign diminished? The emperor grounds for blaming the German people have been asked, including the policy of adventure, the emperor is more an adventure, namely, Otto.

The correspondent of Press is reliably informed day's national press conference partial couple visited the Emperor William I, a cricketing shuttle out of the whole Chlotenburgh park at hour before his arrival from part of the mapped out for all public Police Chief von Winkler by his majesty.

CAUSES MUCH INDIGNATION

In View of the Fact That His

SARCASTIC FLINGS BY PRESS

Herr Richter's Criticism in Diet Resulted in His Suppression.

Berlin, March 23.—In the lower house of the Diet today President von Kroschke commented the result of his audience with Emperor William yesterday when the emperor of the Reichstag and Diet expressed the indignation experienced by members of their respective houses at the recent outrage at Bremen. His majesty said to President von Kroschke he was deeply pained by the outrage because it convinced him that when the death of Emperor William I. respect for the authorities has decreased among the people, particularly among the youth.

The emperor thought everybody, without distinction, should share in the blame for present conditions. He considered the press as a potent instrument in upholding the authorities and he is confident that deputies of all parties would do all in their power to see that necessary steps are taken to ensure a full measure of respect for the authorities. A lively debate followed President von Kroschke's declaration in the Diet. Herr Richter contending that such an address was unparliamentary and that the emperor's words, spoken without the presence of the responsible minister were unconstitutional and had never happened before during the past 40 years. When Herr Richter had been sharply rebuking the emperor's words President von Kroschke called him to order. Herr Richter said this proved the truth of his contention. Tonight's papers are full of references to Emperor William's remarks.

PRESS CENSURES EMPEROR

For His Remarks in Reply to Diet Congratulations.

Berlin, March 23.—The reply of Emperor William to the President Diet's congratulations yesterday, in which his majesty, ignoring officially the established facts that William, the man who threw the piece of iron at the emperor, at Bremen, striking him on the cheek in a life long epileptic, and for years was an inmate of an asylum, and the day of the attempt was under medical treatment for recurring fits, threw harsh blame upon the entire nation for conditions breeding such attempts, is the sensation of the day. Everybody is discussing the matter.

The Vorwaerts sharply criticizes President von Kroschke of the lower house of the Diet for drawing a parallel when addressing the emperor, between Nubling and Hoedde's murderous attempts upon Emperor William I, and the deed of an undoubtedly lunatic, pointing out the enormous difference between the cases, as shown by the court evidence.

The Lokal Anzeiger points out that the unreasonable character which every political difference and criticism assumes in Germany today has much to do with the bitter fanatic partisanship everybody shows.

DISPUTES EMPEROR.

The Tagessblatt takes Emperor William smartly to task for thus generalizing his deprecatory remarks about his own action and disputes his majesty's right to do so. The paper asks how the emperor justifies his remarks, which, generally speaking, are unwarranted. It intimates his majesty is systematically and wrongly informed by those surrounding him and adds: "Assuming that the emperor's criticism is true, is it not also the government's and the emperor's own fault if the authority of the crown has suffered greatly since his grandfather's death?"

The Vorwaerts puts a number of questions for the emperor to answer among them being: Why has the crown's authority under his reign diminished and declined? The emperor really has no grounds for blaming the German people as the German people have done about all he has asked, including countenancing the policy of adventure. But, perhaps, the emperor is morose because of his latest misadventure, namely, Othello.

The correspondent of the Associated Press is reliably informed that yesterday's unusual precautions when the imperial couple visited the museum of Emperor William I, including the strictest shutting out of the public from the whole Charlottenburg Castle and the park an hour before Emperor William's arrival forms part of the regular program mapped out for all public occasions, by Police Chief von Wiedhelm and approved by his majesty.

AGREE TO ARBITRATION.

Good Prospect of Settlement of Maritime Strike.

Marcellus, March 23.—The strike situation here took a more favorable turn this afternoon. At the meeting in the town hall convened by the mayor of Marcellus held last night to consider the situation a dispatch was received from M. Waldeck-Rousseau, the French premier, announcing the masters had agreed to arbitration respecting such points of dispute as were open to negotiation. Two representatives of the strikers who were present at the meeting, accept of the proposed arbitration, provided it was approved by the general assembly of strikers. The consociators then called on the prefect, and begged him to withdraw or conceal the troops in the city. In view of the negotiations the prefect consented to conceal the troops, the consociators promising to influence the strikers to cease further disorders.

The striking dock laborers have informed the mayor the arbitration proposals have been accepted. The assembly of engineers have authorized Mayor Plaisant, not as an intermediary between them and their employers.

Nelson and Alsbury Again Beat the Chicago Sport.

I. H. Mills came home Saturday from Chicago where he defeated Pratt Nelson and John Alsbury of Marion, in a civil suit in which an Chicago man named Mills sued to recover $2500.

Three or four years ago there was a foot race in Marion in which $4500 was alleged to have changed hands much to the regret of Mills. As a result of that foot race Pratt Nelson, a man named Moore and another named Loez were indicted for a confidence game.

When Moore and Nelson were tried it developed that Mills lived in Chicago where he met Loez. Mills was not averse to taking advantage of a sure thing and put up a job with Loez according to which they would get up a foot race and

PASSENGERS SNOWBOUND

Trains Stalled for Three Days in Immense
Snowdrifts in Michigan.

PENNSYLVANIA, Fla., March 23.—Great damage was done by a severe southwest cyclone from 2 to 4 this afternoon. The wind's velocity reached as high as 70 miles an hour.

Every vessel in the harbor dragged anchor, the Norwegian steamship Tols being first driven ashore when she put on steam and pulled out into the stream again.

The schooner Iraco and two lighters loaded with lumber were driven ashore at the city front. A small schooner exploded and several lighters loaded with lumber sank and the beach is strewn with the wreckage of small boats and drift timber.

At the Tarzangoon street wharf, the west side of the cotton wharf was stove in by vessels being driven against it. There were unusually high seas, the water being nearly level with the wharves and all morning vessels were tugging, toiling and pulling at their anchors with a tangled mass of wreckage, great vessels rubbing close to each other along shore with rigging interlocked presented a weird and wild scene.

SNOW BOUND TRAIN.

Stalled in Drifts Higher Than Coaches—
Passengers Unable to Escape.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 23.—William Burns, a drummer, reached home today after spending three days and nights on a snow blocked train on the Mackinac railroad from which he and five passengers escaped by walking three miles through great drifts to Seney. They were half a day in making the perilous journey, and were thoroughly exhausted. "On Tuesday afternoon," said Burns, "a trainload of people left Grand Rapids in a raging blizzard. About ten miles north of Seney the train, which was a double header, ran into great snowdrifts, several feet higher than the car roofs. On the train were general freight and Passenger Agent K. E. Ohlrich, Superintendent W. McLean, one lady, Miss Beahm, of Grand Rapids. The storm continued to rage furiously all night. Superintendent McLean dispatched two brakemen early next morning on foot to Seney to secure provisions. They returned late in the afternoon with a sledge load drawn by a St. Bernard dog. In the meantime the passengers had suffered from hunger. The big locomotive managed to work within three miles of Seney, where the train was buried out of sight and stuck fast. Friday afternoon, W. N. Hargrave of Grand Rapids; G. N. Great of Menominee; John Glass of Cadillac; The Rev. A. Andrew of Newberry, A. Weston of Newberry and myself, after half a day, reached the station, completely used up. The train is still stalled, with six feet of snow on the level, and more falling. The passengers on the train are confronted with a serious condition."

AGITATOR IS A SPOILSMAN

Address by Vice President Roosevelt at New York Banquet.

New York, March 23.—The 35th anniversary of the Legal Aid Society was celebrated by a banquet at the Waldorf tonight. Among the guests of honor were Vice President Roosevelt, Charles S. Fairchild, Lyman Abbott, St. Clair Kellogg, John K. Bangs, Admiral Francis J. Biggs, Louis Windmiller, Alfred G. Seligman, J. R. Flanagan and W. T. Updegraff, respectively of Germany, Holland and Russia.

Vice President Roosevelt when called upon was received with great enthusiasm. He said in part:

"There is never any use in idly regretting changes that have swept away conditions which perhaps we should have lived to have seen. We must face the fact that changes have occurred and to meet the new conditions. We stand on the threshold of a new century, we are going to succeed or fail according as we remember or fail to remember that the duty of each is a duty to his neighbor as well as a duty to himself.

We have to beware of those who, in revolt against one kind of injustice, see to another kind of injustice. No good whatsoever comes from trying to apply a false remedy, from recognizing an evil and then trying to abate it by the creation of a worse evil.

"Our great safeguard against that kind of revolution is the existence of a sufficient number of men who try to put out the cause which would lead to such a revolution. I think that of those who have studied problems all are convinced that oftentimes men that play into the hands of agitators against the existing social system, especially existing social system as regards property, are the very men who clamorously insist upon undue share of the benefits of the existing social system."

TO HIS PRIVATE PALACE

Emperor Nicholas Forced to Flee From St. Petersburg.

Berlin, March 23.—Bodion is rampant in Russia and extraordinary precautions to protect the life of the czar have been taken.

Censorship at St. Petersburg and other important points of telegraphic communication has practically reached the prohibitive point as far as the present disturbances are concerned, but mail advices received here tend to prove that the empire is on the verge of revolution.

Everything goes to show the existence of a gigantic rebellion plot, beside which the clashes between students and Cossacks pale into insignificance, although undoubtedly ramifications of the same movement.

Martial law is all but name exists in St. Petersburg, while Moscow, Warsaw, Kief and other cities have been publicly proclaimed to be in a state of siege.

Nicholas II, has fled from his capital and is now seated in his imperial palace at Gatchina, 80 miles from St. Petersburg, but despite all possible precautions his immediate entourage is feared.

Deaths of the Day.

Traverse City, Mich., March 23.—Captain Jos. Dearwood died today aged 74. He was an old labe and sea captain and known in all the lake ports.

There was an odd thing in these proceedings. When the criminal proceedings were heard in the court here I. E. Mills was the prosecutor and he gave the defendants a hard run. When they wanted a defense in their civil proceedings they employed Mills.

Dr. J. Leslie, of Elwin, was in the city yesterday.

MARVIN'S NERVE

Introduced His First Wife into Second Wife's Family.

St. Paul, March 23.—The arrest of Louis K. Marvin at Bemisport, disclosed a peculiar case of alleged bigamy. Two years ago Marvin came to this city from Chicago, representing himself as single, and married Birdie Hoffman, daughter of a well known resident. The couple took up their residence with the bride's parents, and last August a woman and child came to visit them, whom Marvin introduced as his sister. It is said, however, she really was Marvin's wife, whom he married fifteen years ago at St. Joseph, Mo. The deceit is alleged to have continued until yesterday when the woman told her story to the Hoffmans and had a warrant issued for Marvin's arrest.

Strike in Sight.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 23.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, accompanied by District President Nicholas, Duffy and Felt left today ostensibly for New York. There are indications that railroads are preparing for a strike. All cars available are being loaded with coal, while some are being emptied and returned to the mines. Consequently many coaleries throughout the region are idle today owing to scarcity of cars.

Senator Proctor in Cuba.

Havana, March 23.—Senator Proctor says his trip is private and personal but he means to investigate unofficially the political conditions here.

Several members of the convention visited the senator, who stated that the Platt amendment was passed by congress in the honest belief that it was for the best interests of Cuba and because of the understanding that it would be acceptable to the Cubans. He now feels that many constructions put on the terms which he states, are not intended.

Cuban Postal Friction.

Havana, March 23.—The reason the Cuban postoffice cases have been turned over to the special fiscal, and Horatio Reubens and L. Q. Lamar were notified that their services in the cases are no longer required, was because of the strained relations between Gov. Wood and Mr. Reubens, which are publicly known to exist. Mr. Reubens offered to withdraw six weeks ago. The governor's action now, after the delay, is believed to have been caused by the recent political developments.

WED AT MIDNIGHT

Roy R. Wilson and Miss Fannie Davenport Furnish Surprise to Their Friends.

WERE MARRIED IN ST. LOUIS

Left Decatur on Sunday Outbound to Visit Springfield—News of the Affair Received Here Monday.

THE PARENTS DO NOT OBJECT

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch of Monday evening contained the following: One minute after midnight Marriage License Clerk Filley issued to Roy R. Wilson and Miss Fannie Davenport, both of Decatur, Ill., legal permission to become man and wife.

At 12:30 o'clock in the morning the couple were married by the Rev. J. W. Cunningham, in the parlors of the St. Louis Christian Advocate building, 1314 Locust street. Mr. Cunningham, who resides in apartments on the third floor, was awakened by Mr. Wilson, heavily dressed and went down stairs. No witnesses were present.

Mr. Wilson gave his age as 24. His bride said she was 19. Both were fashionably dressed. The bride is a handsome brunette. Mr. Wilson told the minister that he was in the hardware business at Decatur, and that he and Miss Davenport arrived in St. Louis at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

News of the marriage of the young couple had been received to the city during the forenoon. It occasioned great surprise. Sunday Mr. Wilson and Miss Davenport, who is the daughter of M. U. Davenport, went to Springfield accompanied by the young lady's aunt, Mrs. T. L. McKimsey. They arrived with Mrs. M. C. Wood, grandmother of Miss Davenport, and remarked that the meal was good enough for a wedding dinner. Then they left the house outboard to visit a cousin of the young lady, but it appears that instead of that they went to St. Louis and were married.

Mr. Davenport had expected his daughter to visit for some time with relatives in Springfield, but when Mr. Wilson failed to return to the city Monday and he could not locate her at the capital he was considerably worried, but his doubts were soon set at rest when messages from St. Louis announced the wedding.

It seems that before leaving the city Mr. Wilson took his mother into his confidence but otherwise the intended marriage was unknown here. There is not the slightest objection to it by parents of either of the young folks. It had been their intention to wed some time in June and they had their parents' consent to do so. Mr. Davenport says that Mr. Wilson had practically obtained his consent to the wedding later on. He says that he regards him as an exemplary young man and he does not know him. Mr. Wilson is and has been employed in the office of the Missouri House, Wells Co. for some years past and is a trusted employee. At the home of Mr. Davenport Monday night it was stated that Mr. and Mrs. Wilson had not returned to the city. This supposition was that they had gone on to Kansas City to visit Mrs. J. W. Greenlee, an aunt of the bride. Mrs. Wilson having had in mind a visit to her. The recent death of the young lady's mother probably caused her to desire to be quickly married and she took this manner of carrying out her plan. Mrs. Wood, of Springfield, grandmother of the young lady, came to the city from Springfield last evening.

Big Damage Suit.
Attorney M. C. Griffin went to Clinton last night where today he will conduct the prosecution of the damage suit of Mrs. Emma Summers vs. Baker & McDick charged with being responsible for the death of her husband, Harry Summers. He was killed in a gambling room over the Baker & McDick saloon December 23, 1900, by a man named Doc Macnamer. Now the wife claims damages in the sum of $5000 from the saloon men on the grounds that they sold liquor to "both the men and made them drunk and the murder would not have occurred. The case will be called in the circuit court at Clinton this morning and is attracting wide attention over Decatur county as the parties are all widely known.

THE BOXER UPRISING

Returned Missionaries Tell of Their Experiences Among the Chinese.

At the Congregational church last night Dr. V. H. Ingram and Rev. W. P. Sprague who have recently returned from China, gave an interesting account of the Boxer outbreak as seen by them. Dr. Ingram was in charge of a hospital which was maintained by the board of foreign missions, of the Congregational church at Tung Chow, twelve miles east of Peking on the 101st river. He was assisted by his wife who is a trained nurse, and three natives. They were obliged to leave Tung Chow on June 8, on account of the Boxers, at which time they moved into Peking and took refuge at the Methodist mission. They remained there twelve days until the murder of Baron von Kuntler, when they removed to the British legation. They were besieged from June 20 till the arrival of the relieving force, August 15. Dr. Ingram says that the authorities never interfered with the work of the hospital, in fact he was called to treat cases in the families of nearly all of the higher native officers of the town. The hospital had 18,000 treatments the last full year. The cases which gave them the greatest reputation were operations for the removal of large tumors and operations on the eye for the removal of a cataract. The Chinese stand operations better than the white race and very few die on the table. The Chinese say when a man dies under treatment that he "was cured to death." Some of the prescriptions of the native practitioners are truly bizarre. A woman with eye trouble was advised to take a concoction that filled a quart bowl. After swallowing the contents she was to pulverize the bowl and take that also. Dr. Ingram says that the Chinese are a commercial nation and the Japanese are naturally military. The Japanese were thoroughly prepared for the recent troubles and when the sacred city was looted the Japanese knew just where to look for treasure. They carried off about $1,500,000 worth of silver bullion. The language is exceedingly difficult, but a man can get a working knowledge of it in about two years. Thus he can spend the rest of his life trying not to forget what he has learned.

Rev. W. P. Sprague was stationed at the north China mission of the Congregational board at Kalgan, 125 miles northwest of Peking. He has been stationed at this place since 1874. Kalgan is on the great wall which separates China from Mongolia. On the night of June 10 a mob of Boxers attacked the mission buildings but were frightened off by a few guns which the besieged fired at them. The next day the mission inmates appealed to the authorities who protected them for a time, but finally declared that they were no longer able to control the Boxers. The missionaries however furnished them an escort of soldiers to Hara Chin, a few miles across the wall in Mongolia. Here they were providentially aided by finding a caravan which had been prepared and was waiting for an English gentleman who expected to use it for an exploring trip. By means of this they managed after many hardships to reach Kiot in Siberia where they remained until funds could reach them from the United States. From there they traveled to New York by way of Yokohama, St. Petersburg and London. The Russian authorities treated them with the greatest courtesy and kindness. The party numbered six Americans and seven Swedish and was four months making the journey.
